

The best work space indoor climate possible...

Intro The Indoor Climate of your business is essential for your comfort during your work day.

The BluTree Climate System is a HVAC that will supply fresh air and regulate the heating/cooling loads to within a degree Celsius in all corners of the climate control areas. The ultimate control on this indoor climate system is the software that analyzes environmental conditions and adjusts according to temperature set points.

Energy Savings The BluTree Indoor Climate System will effectively take all the effort out of self-regulating of indoor environment. Just set the desired comfort level, at each zone, then get to work. The system uses water to air coils with heat pumps and water heaters as heating/cooling sources. This assures stable temperature and humidity with filtered fresh air. This is all regulated by the intelligent mechanical control software creates a very efficient HVAC system.

Applications The BluTree Indoor Climate System can be configured for most business and environments, from an energized air office to a sterile doctor office.

Costs The BluTree Indoor Climate System will be priced with all your requested requirements.
